ABOUT MICROKODES

Founded in 2012, Microkodes Limited provides cost-effective, innovative IT consulting services and solutions to clients across multiple industries. Throughout our journey, we have been widely recognized for our collaborative, client-centric approach to the business experience, as well as our passion for excellence, both of which have resulted in significant year-on-year growth.

Our mission is to foster an environment that creates a collaborative business experience for maintainable, long-lasting benefits. We believe our personable approach to understanding our clients' challenges is key to achieving this mission. Our associates will actively listen and document client objectives to determine a comprehensive business plan, and by cultivating this type of consultative partnership, we achieve success

Rapid innovation and rapid application development make up the foundation of our business model. Our solutions combine the latest technologies, training, consulting and technical support. Our portfolio consists of products, projects and consulting services. We build innovative products and offer solutions for today's niche market and dynamic digital environment. We provide strategic and innovative solutions where business and technology converge.

To convert our clients' business plans into operative results, we maximize the use of proven, leading-edge technologies, our propriety knowledge base, and careful selection of critical alliance partnerships. This ensures fast delivery of secure, user-configurable software solutions that feature intuitive technology, cloud portability, and an extremely competitive cost

Everything we do at microkodes limited is guided by a strict set of values which have close collaboration with our clients and an over-arching, family-oriented relationship with all of our employees at their forefront. These principles have been at the core of the company's character since its inception. At microkodes, our customers' success is our success. Our talented professionals possess a strong passion and commitment to our customers, and our mission is supported by the following core values, which shape our culture, define our character and guide how we behave.

INTEGRITY

We believe in steadfastly adhering to professional standards, in matching our behaviors to our words and in remaining honest and fair in all of our dealings.

ACCOUNTABILITY

We hold ourselves accountable for meeting the needs of our customers and believe in taking responsibility for our actions – even when no one is looking.

COLLABORATION

We know that the best solutions come from working together, leveraging our collective knowledge and sharing experience, resources and opportunities.

RESPECT

We recognize the value of every employee's contribution and believe that the most effective results occur when every individual understands his or her importance to the team.

INNOVATION

We never settle for the status quo and are always on the lookout for new products, systems, markets and processes. We aren't afraid to try new ideas and suggest better approaches.

COMPLIANCE

We understand the importance of reducing risk, and are committed to creating solutions compliant with customer quality standards as well as all applicable laws and regulations.

DIVERSITY

We embrace our differences, whether educational, cultural, religious, or ethnic. We foster an inclusive environment and celebrate diversity.

QUALITY

We choose the best people to do our work, implement the best available solutions and always challenge ourselves to find new ways we can improve.
